Strangulation has been identified as one of the most lethal forms of domestic violence and sexual assault: unconsciousness may occur within seconds and death within minutes. When domestic violence perpetrators choke (strangle) their victims, not only is this felonious assault, but it may be an attempted homicide. Strangulation is an ultimate form of power and control where the batterer can demonstrate control over the victim's next breath; it may have devastating psychological effects or a potentially fatal outcome.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Gael Strack and Bill Smock are leading specialized experts in the identification, investigation, and documentation of strangulation in intimate partner violence cases, will cover the following:
